What financial advice we can provide to you

Omni is committed to providing our clients with good financial advice that is suitable for our client's needs. Our advisers are restricted to only providing financial advice on the following products:

- Personal General Insurance including, but not limited to, home, contents, vehicles, motor cycle and boats; and
- Business General Insurance including, but not limited to, commercial property, business assets, business interruption, commercial motor and a wide range of other business liability insurance products.

The insurance product providers we use are insurance businesses in New Zealand that are licensed by the Reserve Bank under section 19 of The Insurance (Prudential Supervisor) Act 2010. The insurers must have a financial strength rating from an approved rating agency.

Omni has decided to only engage with insurance product providers that have financial strength ratings with a minimum of B+ and above. You will be provided with current ratings for the insurers when we provide your recommendations to you.

Conflicts of Interest

To ensure that we and our advisers prioritise your interests above our own, we follow an advice process that ensures recommendations are made on the basis of your individual goals and circumstances. Your interests are our priority although we do have business relationships with product providers also. From time to time our product providers assist us with funding for the purposes of attending conferences and professional development training. We also receive remuneration from product providers such as commissions, as described below.

Our advisers complete annual and ongoing training about how to manage conflicts of interests and a register is maintained. We monitor this register and provide additional training where necessary. We perform an annual review of our compliance programme.

Our Financial Advisers duties

Omni, and anyone who gives financial advice on our behalf, have duties under the Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013 relating to the way that we give advice and abide by the Code of Professional Conduct for Financial Advice Services (these are designed to make sure that we have the expertise needed to provide you with advice).

We are required to:

- Give priority to your interests by taking all reasonable steps to make sure our advice isn't materially influenced by our own interests
- Exercise care, diligence and skill in providing you with advice
- Meet standards of competence, knowledge and skill
- Meet standards of ethical behaviour, conduct and client care

How we are remunerated

Commission

We receive commission from insurance companies on the successful placement of insurance policies for both new clients and at the annual renewal of existing clients insurances. The commission paid to us is between 0% to 30% of the insurer portion, or Policy Charge, and natural disaster of a clients' invoice. Commission is not charged on government fire levies and taxes.

The amount of commission received by us depends on which insurance company and which insurance policy you purchase.

We do not charge fees or receive any commission or other incentives for giving financial advice that is not acted upon.

Fees

We may charge our clients fees for the administration of, and ongoing changes to, their insurance policies. These fees will be payable by you when the insurance policy is purchased or endorsed. We will advise you if we are going to charge a fee at the time you request a change. The fee charged will also be displayed on our invoice.
